1. Troops and canvas-covered guns arrived in the Rerik (M 55/0 51) area during the nights between 25 April 1950 and 26 May 1950. Tanks were not observed with the troops. Large Volkspolizei detachments patrolled the streets of Rerik as the troops moved through.
2. With the exception of some German women who were kitchen helpers, all German workers had been removed from the peninsula, although the buildings which were planned had not been completed.
3. After the arrival of troops AAA firing practice was observed for the first time. An aircraft towing a colored sleeve target or a balloon flew over the peninsula. The high level of detonations indicated that the guns were of heavy caliber.
4. A German woman employed in a Soviet kitchen said that 10,000 to 12,000 troops were stationed on the peninsula, while the nearby population spoke of 25,000 troops.
5. A soldier from Rerik who dumped timber in Neubukow (M 55/0 51) on 18 May 1950 said that he and his fellow soldiers came from the Belorussian SSR and were 20 to 24 years of age. He said that he had just recently come to Germany. He stated that some of the troops were billeted in tents since the capacity of the houses and newly constructed cantonment buildings on the peninsula did not meet the requirements.

7. A German tailor learned that Soviet troops had been de-trained in Neubukow on 30 April and 1 May 1950.
8. Eight thousand sets of underwear belonging to Soviet troops in Rerik were turned in at the Niemetz laundry, Rostock, on 8 May 1950.
9. An AAA unit with four-barreled AA guns moved along the Doberan-Rerik road, toward Rerik, on 29 April 1950. Doberan residents said that about 4,000 troops had gone toward Rerik between 20 and 29 April 1950. All troops had closely cropped hair and were equipped with 37-mm AA guns. **
